Maya's House

I have a big family, and we live in a big house. We have two living rooms, eight bedrooms, and six bathrooms. We also have a garden. It is small, but beautiful. My mother, my grandmother, and my three aunts like to sit outside in the garden. They say it is a good place to talk. My father and my uncles like to talk in the living room. We also have a very big dining room. My grandfather likes when we all sit at the table. I like my bedroom. I have two beds, a desk, a computer and many books. I like to read in my bedroom. It is small, but it has three big windows. When I look outside, I can see the sea.

Different Houses

There are many different types of houses. These different kinds of houses have different designs and layouts. They can also be made out of different materials.

A bungalow is a kind of house that has only one floor. Bungalows are very nice because you never need to walk up any steps. Bungalows are very popular in Europe and the United States.

Eco-houses are houses made from natural, energy efficient materials like wood, mud or stone. They often have solar panels on the roof to make power for the home. Sometimes they have a well to get water from.

A hut is a very simple and small house. Huts are sometimes found near the beach. Huts can be made of many different materials. Often huts are made of wood or mud and have a roof made of grass. The best thing about a hut is that they are the cheapest home to build.
