Part 2 : Reading :

Read the texts. Match the texts (A-C) to the sentences (1-7). You can use each letter more than once.

A — Salem

Last year, I went on a rollercoaster for the first time. I was scared, but I decided to try it. It was exciting and terrifying at the same time! I closed my eyes and tried not to scream. When it was finished, I felt a sense of pride because I had done something brave. I haven't been on a rollercoaster since! I would really love to do it again sometime soon.

B — Ahmad

I felt really proud of myself when I first learned to swim! I remember that feeling of excitement very well. I felt very satisfied because I had achieved something! I was six years old and I had a fear of water. But when I learned how to swim I wasn't afraid of it any more. Since then, I have never been afraid of water again. I have even become a member of the local swimming club.

C — Zainab

I was always scared of heights! But one day my parents said we were going to visit the Burj Khalifa. At first I didn't want to hear about it. How could I visit the tallest building in the world and not just scream? But at the same time I didn't want to miss out on the fun my brothers and sisters would have. So, I decided to join them! It was amazing! I really loved it! I wasn't scared after all and maybe everything was just in my head.

Match the texts (A-C) to the sentences (1-7). You can use each letter more than once.

The power of ideas

JK Rowling was born in the United Kingdom in 1965. Since she was young, she had always wanted to be a writer. She studied French at the University of Exeter in the UK and after that, she had several different jobs. She started the first Harry Potter book in 1990, but she couldn't finish it for a long time. While she was working full-time, she was bringing up her small daughter, so there wasn't much time for writing. However, she didn't give up on her great ideas.

Eventually, the first Harry Potter book was published in 1996. It sold out very quickly, and soon everyone was interested in JK Rowling and her fabulous creation. She wrote seven books for the Harry Potter series and soon these books became films too. As a result, JK Rowling has become one of the richest writers in the world.

Today, JK Rowling is a successful, world-famous author who has created a character who is loved by children—and adults—all over the world. Her life story teaches us to always remember our interesting, creative ideas because you never know where they might lead!

Subject : Karate Club

Hi Omar! How are you ?

Have you seen the poster about the new karate club at school? I really think we should join! I've wanted to try karate since I was in grade 1! It really sounds exciting, especially because we can do it together. You and I can practice and become professionals! I think many of our classmates are going to be interested in this club. I hear that there are different belts for different levels, including red, yellow, white and of course black! I think this will be very good exercise for us. Because it will help with our coordination, we will be better at football, too! I've already asked my parents and they said I could join the club. Don't forget to ask yours. I can't wait until we start our first practice. It's going to be so much fun!

Let's go together next Sunday. I'll meet you in the school gym at 2:30pm. See
