Switzerland

Switzerland is a small country in Europe. Three countries are next to it. They are Austria, France and Italy. It is the smallest of these countries but still has a population of over 8 million. People in Switzerland speak five languages.

People like visiting the country because it has many forests, mountains and nature parks. This area is good for rock-climbing, hiking and trekking. If you are very lucky you might see bears, snakes or golden eagles whilst you are there.

Tourists spend time at the beautiful rivers too. Many visitors enjoy sailing on the clear, blue water. Swimming would be nice, but it is not safe to swim near the boats. Water skiing is popular though.

Zurich is the capital, but it is small and easy to walk around. There is not a lot to do there. You might get bored after a few days. However, there are some beautiful, old buildings and an interesting history museum that you shouldn't miss.

The Sahara Desert

I am travelling in the Sahara Desert. It is the largest hot desert in the world. Only the Arctic and Antarctica, which are both cold deserts, are bigger than the Sahara.

I can see small, strange plants with long roots, that are like fingers. These roots dig into the sand looking for water. The roots also stop the plant from moving when the wind blows. Plants have long thin leaves that can hold a lot of water too.

I am very excited because I can see snakes and scorpions. I know that they hide in the sand to catch mice to eat. I am also interested in the beetles. They eat the plants and seeds that they find in the sand.

It is night now. I am sitting outside my tent watching a beautiful Addax, which is a big, white antelope. It is using its long flat feet to walk easily and quietly on the soft sand as it looks for food.

Generally, summer is hot and dry. It starts in early December and finishes in March.

Temperatures in the desert are usually between 36 and 39°C, but can reach up to 45 - 50°C. However, temperatures in the desert during winter are between 18 and 24°C.

Last week, I went to Dubai Safari Park with my family. It is a big park and has around 3,000 animals. How amazing is that?

First, we went to the African Village and saw a few different types of monkeys. My favorite type was the Patas monkeys. There were different kinds of cats, too. We saw lions, tigers, and cheetahs. Hello Rashid,

How are you my friend?

I am in France with my brother. We are having a wonderful time. I am very excited because tomorrow we will climb the highest mountain in France. It's called Mont Blanc. My father climbed it by himself a year ago. He has told us about his journey.

We need to put on our comfortable boots. It will be a long walk. I will also take my warm hat and gloves because it will be very cold at the top. We won't take a tent or sleeping bags because we are not sleeping on the mountain.

Climbing the mountain will make us thirsty. I'll carry some orange juice to drink.

My brother will take water because he likes it more. He'll take some chocolate bars and sandwiches too.
